

CallMagnet

Turn every missed call into a booked job — automatically.

The problem

Every restaurant, salon, and trades business in Australia misses calls every day. The customer hangs up, calls the next business on Google, and the job is gone. There is no system to catch them — until now.

The solution

When a customer calls and no one answers, CallMagnet instantly sends them an SMS from the business's own number. The message contains a branded booking link. The customer taps it, lands on the Middle Man page, and takes action — without the business picking up.

Core features

Missed-call SMS engine • Twilio intercepts every missed call instantly • SMS sent from the business's own number • Landline and VoIP filtering — no wasted sends • Monthly SMS cap with overage pricing • Opt-out compliance with full audit trail	The Middle Man page • Custom branded landing page per client • Full-screen video or image background • Up to 6 neon action buttons • Booking, reschedule, functions, late arrival, lost and found • Works on any phone — no app required
Owner dashboard (PWA) • Real-time: SMS sent, clicks, bookings, conversion rate • Revenue recovered estimate • Live customer request feed • Push notifications to all owner devices • Installs to iPhone and Android home screen	Automation • Quick responder SMS if no booking in 2 hours • Daily summary alerts to operator • Monthly report email per client • Free trial expiry warnings • Stripe-triggered account reactivation

Market opportunity

- Every trade, restaurant, salon and service business in Australia misses calls daily — the market is every small business with a phone.
- No competitor combines instant SMS + branded landing page + real-time dashboard in a single product.
- Pays for itself after recovering just one job per month — average job value $150-$800 depending on vertical.
- Low churn: the dashboard becomes a daily habit for business owners who watch their stats.
- Verticals live: restaurant and hairdresser. Ready to expand: trades, retail, medical, automotive, pet care.
- White-label potential for franchise groups and booking platform partners.
